

OCHA Flash Update

Multiple demolitions across Area C in the West Bank; 124 people displaced

8 April 2016

On 7 April, the Israeli Civil Administration (ICA) carried out demolitions throughout the West Bank, including in five Bedouin communities affected by the E1 settlement plan, and in Khirbet Tana, which has been the location of multiple demolitions in 2016, most recently on 23 March. Demolitions also took place today in Az' Za'ayem village (Jerusalem), Ni'lin (Ramallah), and Al Khader (Bethlehem), where a combination of residential, animal and livelihood structures were demolished.

Khirbet Tana, 7 April 2016

In total, 54 structures (including 18 donor-funded structures) were demolished in nine different communities, displacing 124 people, including 60 children. A further 293 people, including 98 children, were otherwise affected.

The demolitions in the five Bedouin localities in the Jerusalem governorate resulted in the demolition of 14 structures, including nine residential structures, displacing 55 people, including 31 children. All five affected communities are among the 46 Palestinian Bedouin communities in the central West Bank at-risk of forcible transfer as a result of a “relocation” plan advanced by the Israeli authorities. They are also among the communities directly affected by the E1 settlement plan, for the expansion of Ma’ale Adummim, creating a continuous built-up area between this settlement and East Jerusalem.

Multiple demolitions also took place in Khirbet Tana in the Nablus governorate, the fourth demolition recorded in the community this year. The Israeli authorities demolished 34 structures, including 13 donor-funded structures, leaving 69 Palestinians displaced, 29 of them children. Many of the demolished structures had been provided by donors as relief after earlier demolitions.

Khirbet Tana is located in an Israeli-declared military training area, or “firing zone.” Some 18 per cent of the West Bank has been closed for military training since the 1970’s although recent research indicates that nearly 80 per cent of such areas are not used for training. Since the beginning of 2016, 249 structures were demolished in areas declared as firing zones, displacing 448 people, including 214 children.

Following the last demolition in the community in late March, the UN Coordinator for Humanitarian Aid and Development Activities for the occupied Palestinian territory (oPt), Robert Piper, visited Khirbet Tana and warned of a risk of forcible transfer facing residents.

Thus far in 2016, the Israeli authorities have demolished 515 structures in Palestinian communities in Area C, compared to a total of 453 in Area C in all of 2015. 735 people have been displaced in Area C in 2016, compared to a total of 580 in 2015.

Please note that the aggregate figures for 2016 have been updated since the original distribution of this Flash Update.

For more information on the risk of forcible transfer in the central West Bank, see OCHA Fact Sheet about Bedouin communities at risk of forcible transfer.

Data and analysis provided in this Flash Update is based on preliminary information available. OCHA oPt Flash Updates are issued following developments raising humanitarian concerns and requiring coordinated humanitarian responses.